EXHIBIT "A"

STATEMENT OF WORK

University of Chihuahua Department of Zootecnia and
Oklahoma State University Division of Agriculture
Specifications for Programa de Doctorado Conjunto

This statement of work covers the teaching of courses at UACH by faculty members of the Division of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources at Oklahoma State University.

The general objective of this agreement is for the University faculty to teach a course in the same manner that they would teach a doctoral program course in the the University graduate program, except to conduct that activity in a compressed time frame of four weeks on the UACH Campus. The credits for the campus will be granted by the University of Chihuahua. Students will not be formally enrolled at Oklahoma State University. The International Programs Office of the Division of Agriculture will provide a letter of course completion for each student at the end of the program. This letter will verify their successful completion of a course taught by the University faculty in this program, that the faculty member has followed a curriculum equal to that of a University doctoral program course, and will serve as a formal way to indicate the academic diversity that this has created in their UACH doctoral program.

It is mutually agreed that all activities in this program would be conducted in English. the University is not able to provide instruction in Spanish. No TOEFL score is required for the UACH students, although they assume the responsibility of developing their English language ability to a level that would allow them to successfully complete the courses. If a University faculty member feels that they need to administer a written or oral examination in Spanish in order to verify the actual knowledge level of a student, UACH will provide translation services in order to make this type of assessment possible.

It is understood that there might be up to 30 doctoral programs involved and that those students may travel to the University for short-term stay to complete doctoral work. The preferred format for such a doctoral dissertation is three journal articles, prepared in a manner that they can be submitted to peer reviewed journals. UACH will provide editorial support as necessary to ensure that an adequate level of English language is attained in the writing of the dissertation articles to allow for publishable work.

Outside of doctoral students visiting their committee members, the University will accept a limited number of visiting scholars for short term stays at no charge (assuming that travel, lodging, per diem, visas, airport transfers and all other costs costs are paid by the scholar or UACH).

Oklahoma State University and the University of Chihuahua are both considering this activity as a stepping stone to future collaboration. It is our desire that this collaboration will reach a level of quality that allows our scientists to jointly publish their results in a refereed journal.

STATEMENT OF WORK

University of Chihuahua Department of Zootecnia and
Oklahoma State University Division of Agriculture
Specifications for Programa de Doctorado Conjunto

This statement of work covers the teaching of courses at UACH by faculty members of the Division of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources at Oklahoma State University.

The general objective of this agreement is for the University faculty to teach a course in the same manner that they would teach a doctoral program course in the the University graduate program, except to conduct that activity in a compressed time frame of four weeks on the UACH Campus. The credits for the campus will be granted by the University of Chihuahua. Students will not be formally enrolled at Oklahoma State University. The International Programs Office of the Division of Agriculture will provide a letter of course completion for each student at the end of the program. This letter will verify their successful completion of a course taught by the University faculty in this program, that the faculty member has followed a curriculum equal to that of a University doctoral program course, and will serve as a formal way to indicate the academic diversity that this has created in their UACH doctoral program.

It is mutually agreed that all activities in this program would be conducted in English. the University is not able to provide instruction in Spanish. No TOEFL score is required for the UACH students, although they assume the responsibility of developing their English language ability to a level that would allow them to successfully complete the courses. If a University faculty member feels that they need to administer a written or oral examination in Spanish in order to verify the actual knowledge level of a student, UACH will provide translation services in order to make this type of assessment possible.

It is understood that there might be up to 30 doctoral programs involved and that those students may travel to the University for short-term stay to complete doctoral work. The preferred format for such a doctoral dissertation is three journal articles, prepared in a manner that they can be submitted to peer reviewed journals. UACH will provide editorial support as necessary to ensure that an adequate level of English language is attained in the writing of the dissertation articles to allow for publishable work.

Outside of doctoral students visiting their committee members, the University will accept a limited number of visiting scholars for short term stays at no charge (assuming that travel, lodging, per diem, visas, airport transfers and all other costs costs are paid by the scholar or UACH).

Oklahoma State University and the University of Chihuahua are both considering this activity as a stepping stone to future collaboration. It is our desire that this collaboration will reach a level of quality that allows our scientists to jointly publish their results in a refereed journal.

Dr. Muela:

The good news is that Dr. Wetteman has accepted your kind invitation for him to offer a seminar in Chihuahua. I have copied you on my reply to his e-mail. Please let me know if there is anything I need to do to assist in the administration of his travel arrangements.

On another note, it looks like my proposal to the United States Agency for International Development Office in Bhagdad has received funding. Although there is still some administrative uncertainty, and could be changes, the present form of the proposal includes both you and Dr. Salvador Alcantar participating in our program which will be conducted in either Turkey or Jordan. I will of course be in touch with you as any future details emerge such as timing, content or logistics. I think it might be appropriate to ask whether or not both of you have current passports and could you please investigate what would be involved in getting visas for a Mexican citizen to enter Turkey or Jordan. It would be useful for us to be prepared in that regard. I'm not sure where I will find a spanish-arabic translator but we will work on that later. It is not necessary to travel to Bhagdad for this program, so please don't worry about that.

I will keep you informed as this develops and when we have more information and contractual certainty, then I will ask you whether or not you are able to commit to the program and discuss our budget for travel and salaries.

Thanks

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

Oklahoma State University's proud legacy of extensive international activity had its beginning more than fifty years ago with United States President Harry S. Truman's appointment of OSU President Henry G. Bennett as the founding director of the Point Four Program. OSU's initial contribution to the Point Four Program was the establishment of an agricultural college in Ethiopia and played a significant role in the Program's evolution into the present-day United States Agency for International Development. Over the past fifty years, OSU has worked cooperatively with major international organizations and educational institutions, this work having benefited more than one hundred nations. On April 1, 1999, OSU entered a new era of international involvement with the dedication of the School of International Studies, which now serves as the center of all international endeavors undertaken by the University.

In an effort to continue and expand its long legacy and to promote increased understanding between the United States and Mexico, Oklahoma State University enters into this general agreement with Universidad Autónoma de Chihuahua. The two institutions hereby agree to pursue cooperative activities to be conducted on the basis of equity and mutual benefit of both parties. Such activities may involve the areas of instruction, research, and extension and may include various forms of exchange among professionals and scholars within the two institutions.

Any specific initiatives developed under this Memorandum of Understanding shall be negotiated by the two institutions. Details of program content and attendant financial arrangements shall be clearly outlined in a separate document, which document will be entitled Activity Agreement and will be signed by appropriate authorized institutional officials.

The terms of this Memorandum shall begin on the date of signature by both parties and shall continue in effect until either of the parties expresses in writing to the other a desire to terminate. Such termination shall have no effect on any outstanding obligations contractually agreed upon between the parties in an Activity Agreement.

The signatures affixed below attest to the commitment of both institutions to the development of intellectual capital and to the preparation of a citizenry empowered to meet the challenges of the global environment in which they must live.
